

Keepataw Days Arrive Again This Weekend

Carnival rides and booths will be moving into a two - block stretch of Lemont's Main Street at the end of this week, preparing for the annual Keepataw Days celebration.

As demonstrated by the float pictured below, the event is a tribute to Lemont and to Labor Day. The festivities had their beginning in 1949 with a small carnival in the village hall to celebrate Labor Day and have grown through the years to a gala three-day affair attended by persons from miles around.

Read all about this year's celebration in a special pull-out section in the middle of this week's Southwest Graphic.

Board rehashes Dist. 205 split

by Marge Ratcliffe

LOCKPORT -- The proposed split in the Lockport High School District was again a topic of lengthy discussion at the district's board meeting Thursday, Aug. 27.

Richard Manley, president of the Lockport chapter of the American Federation of Teachers, asked board president William Brill to poll the board, to determine each member's opinion on the matter. His request refused, because Brill said the board would remain silent until the appeal against the decision to split the district has been settled.

The board voted May 7 to present a petition to the Will County Board of School Trustees, asking that the Valley View Grade School District and the part of Wheatland Elementary School District which lies in the district be detached from the high school district.

The action came after several residents of the area, from both the east and west side of the district, spoke to the board and said they felt a split was the only way to solve the district's monetary problems.

Among the reasons given was the promise that each side would support its own schools, but was reluctant to support schools "they never see."

The County School Trustees had a public hearing on June 10, and handed down a decision June 22, to allow the district to split. On July 24, an appeal was filed, asking for administrative review of the trustee's decision, by Phyllis Sealy, James Peer-man, Howard Hassert, Frank Berta, Paul Berta, Paul Jurca, and Manley. The appeal names the Will County Board of School Trustees and the Lockport High School Board as co-defendants.

Manley said since the board is a co-defendant, he would like to know how each member feels about the split. (When the board voted to send the petitions in May, all voted in favor except Stephen Platko, Felix Borio and Jerry Harlan.) "As I recall, when you voted, you were very careful to word the petition so as not to tip your hand either way. You are now co-defendants. Doesn't this imply that you are in favor of a split?"

Brill said it might imply their agreement, but "your attorney, (referring to Andrew Leahy, who represents the six people in the appeal) very cleverly put us into the co-defendant position. Granted, some board members participated in split discussions, but they did not represent the board as a whole, only their individual opinions."

John Cirricione, the board's attorney, told Manley his question was "very, very difficult." He added, "This is a brand new area of the law. I will file a document with the court stating the board is neutral. Usually, you cannot be in a lawsuit and take a neutral position."

Manley again asked the board to vote, and Brill replied, "No, sir, I will not poll the board until an appeal has been rendered by the court."

At this point, board member William Waldon told Manley he was trying to get more information for "your little court case" and that he could find out whatever he needed to know by reading back issues of newspapers published at the time of the split activities.

Member Stephen Platko said, "Some of us favor the decision, some of us oppose it. It is a matter of public record and common knowledge how we feel. As a board, we have nothing but neutrality."

Manley concluded his remarks by stating he didn't think it was well-known how the board felt.

This prompted Cirricione to explain, "The board is boxed in a corner by great numbers of people who think, formally and informally, the district should split. If the board had resisted this movement, the split proponents said they would oppose any future referendum. We need them to pass referendum. We almost have to submit to their requests. I don't know what else the board could have done. The board will hold them (the proponents) to their promise."

In other business, the board voted to allow the teachers to hold a bargaining election Thursday, Sept. 3 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. The election will be handled by an outside group, the Lockport Woman's Club. The teachers will begin school on the same salary schedule as last year, except that every teacher will move up one step, until a new contract is negotiated.

The board also voted to allow an inter-fund loan, taking $100,000 from the educational fund and depositing it in the building fund. This is to provide money for custodial salaries, etc.

Waldon, chairman of the finance committee, said the auditor had recommended transferring the Central and East High School trust accounts to the district office. The board okayed the request.

J. J. Kovach, editor of a weekly newspaper in the area, asked the board how they could have asked voters several times to increase their taxes by voting for referendum, when three members of the board were listed as being delinquent in paying their personal property taxes.

He cited William Brill, board president, Stephen Platko, vice president and William Waldon. Kovach asked if they had any comment. Brill said he did not, and Platko replied, "Don't believe everything you read in the papers."

Waldon said if you looked long enough, you could find almost anybody on the delinquent list. Kovach responded that Brill, Waldon and Platko were elected officials. Waldon asked Kovach to clarify he was talking about personal property tax and not real estate tax.

Kovach said he thought elected officials should at least have some comment on why they were not paying the tax that helps to support the schools. The board had no further comment.

Lloyd Wesley Harrell

Dist. 205 hires superintendent

LOCKPORT -- The Lockport High School District has a new superintendent. Lloyd Wesley Harrell was hired by the board at its Aug. 27 meeting at Lockport Central High School.

Steve Platko, chairman of the board's personnel committee, said Harrell is currently a post graduate student at Purdue University, and will receive his doctorate in January of 1971.

Platko said Harrell has served as an administrator in various communities and the board believes he will provide "the type of leadership we are desirous of and very much in need of."

Harrell spoke briefly to the board and said he had been in education all his life, with the exception of three years in the service, and that he looked forward to the "challenge of providing educational leadership for the district."

Harrell's salary was set at $24,500, effective August 27.

Tomorrow is court day for Mokena ex-police, village

MOKENA — The village of Mokena and the Police Association are slated to have a round in court tomorrow (Sept. 3), in the replevin suit brought by the village. The original hearing was slated for Aug. 21 in magistrate's court at Joliet but was continued by agreement.

The suit was launched by the village in an endeavor to gain possession of property which was purchased by the Mokena Police Association from its own funds. The village board takes the position that since these funds came from donations and contributions by residents of the village, the property bought by police belongs to the public, and the village represents the public.

Donations to the police station were made by people outside as well as inside the village, members of the association contend, and anyway, they say, the association is independent of the village board and that the board has never tried to tell the association what it could do or couldn't do with its money until now.

On July 21, Wayne Ryder, then chief of police, four police officers and three radio operators resigned. They promptly returned all of the village owned equipment, Ryder said, but retained possession of that which the association had purchased which the village board had said it could not buy because it did not have the money.

At a meeting Aug. 20, the Association members voted to turn any funds remaining following payment of legal expenses over to the Mokena Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars for its youth work. The members also voted to sell the equipment to the Village of Mokena or any other interested source, and turn that money over to the VFW for the same purpose.

The two officers who remained on duty when the others quit met and decided the Mokena Police Association was only for policemen on active duty and elected themselves as officers, Harold Fitch, the temporary acting chief, as president, and Leonard Robbins, as secretary-treasurer. They also declared their association was the only association and any money or property belonged to it.

Right now the property listed on the writ of replevin is in the hands of former Chief Ryder who posted a $2,000 bond with the court when the equipment was turned over to him. However, it is legally in the custody of the court and no one has the use of it until the ownership is determined.

Included on the list by the village board when it sued out the writ was an ISPERN radio set that was installed in Ryder's personal car, which he used as an auxiliary police vehicle. ISPERN means Illinois State Police Emergency Radio Network. The radio sets are assigned to various police departments by the state and are said to remain the property of the state. In assigning the unit to Ryder's car, the state recorded his name, the car make, model, motor and license number.

On Sunday, Aug. 23, Ryder said, Fitch came to his house with a letter from William Ives, who is with the ISPERN agency, directing Ryder to turn the unit from his car over to Fitch. Ryder told him that he would really like to be rid of the ISPERN unit but inasmuch as it was on the list of equipment in the replevin writ it was not within his province or the state to do anything with it.

Fitch was accompanied by a serviceman from Motorola who was to take the unit out of the car. Ryder said he had no objections to the man getting the unit out — because it would eventually have to come out — but that he would retain possession until told by the court what to do with it.

The Motorola man wanted to know who was going to pay him and Fitch allegedly assured him the village would take care of his compensation. The man then took the unit out and laid it on the ground. Ryder said he was called to the telephone for a couple of minutes and when he returned, the radio had disappeared. Fitch had put it in the village squad car, Ryder said, but brought it back promptly.

Later in the day Fitch appeared at the Ryder home again, this time accompanied by Joel A. Keegan, chief of police at Woodridge, Ill., and vice-chairman of the ISPERN agency. Keegan had come to take possession of the radio but when informed by Ryder that it had been included by the village in its writ of replevin, Keegan said, of course, he couldn't take the unit.

He said, however, he would like to take the crystals and Ryder told him to help himself. Ryder also called Lawrence Stukel, one of the Association's attorneys, and asked him to fill Keegan in on the situation. The ISPERN official was told that if the state wanted to come in before the hearing and found the court agreeable to releasing the ISPERN from the list of equipment, Ryder would be happy to turn it over.

Keegan gave Ryder a receipt for the crystals and also told him that when the court said OK he would pick up the ISPERN set himself.

Bill introduced to enable Lemont to control canal

LEMONT—Congressman Ed Derwinski (R-4th) last week introduced a bill which would declare the Illinois and Michigan Canal abandoned as a navigable waterway of the United States and quitclaim any interest which the United States may have to the State of Illinois to remove or prevent clouds upon land titles.

The Derwinski bill, which has been referred to the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, was introduced in cooperation with the development program envisioned by Lemont village officials and Illinois conservationists.

"After the passage of the bill, Lemont would then be able to negotiate with the state for that portion of the Illinois and Michigan Canal running through Lemont so that local officials could implement and plan to make effective public use of the land," Derwinski said.

Subdividers battling for Rainbow Valley

MOKENA — Representatives of Kaufman and Broad, real estate developers of Rainbow Valley, appeared before the village board last week to report they had complied with the list of requirements set forth at the previous board meeting as necessary before the trustees would approve the plat of the subdivision.

The board, however, continued its meeting to Tuesday of this week, Sept. 1 to check on sewage treatment situation. Kaufman and Broad asked to supply a letter this week from the Will County Health Department stating whether the treatment plant serving Arbury Hills is adequate to serve the additional 144 lots comprising Rainbow Valley.

Rainbow Valley adjoins Arbury Hills on the east and at one time was a part of the original Arbury Hills development. Kaufman and Broad spokesman told the Mokena trustees they were sure of a favorable reply from the county health department because the treatment plant was designed to take care of the entire subdivision and that sewers were built and stubs laid for each of the 144 lots now known as Rainbow Valley.

They claim that the plant will only be working at two-thirds of its capacity if the 144 homes are added to the sewer system.

The developers also are to get a letter from the Illinois Sanitary Water Board that the 144 lots of Rainbow Valley will not overburden the treatment plant.

When Arbury Hills was built, sewers were installed throughout the tract, but the original developers did not improve all the lots. A part of the subdivision was dropped. This is the part picked up by Kaufman and Broad and a plat drawn as a new subdivision, Rainbow Valley. Besides this tract the Kaufman and Broad combination bought the vacant lots in Arbury Hills from the original developers and are building on them.

The zoning was done by the county and lot sizes are said to be smaller than requirements in the village's subdivision ordinance.

Village Attorney George E. Sangmeister was assigned to check whether the subdividers should be governed by the village subdivision ordinance on lot sizes.

The subdividers contend that lot size is a zoning question. The subdivision ordinance under which the village has certain powers over developments within a mile and a half radius is confined to jurisdiction over utilities, streets, and sidewalks but not over the use to which the land is put, the subdividers claim.

Pfeiffer St. project stalemated; residents get 3-month extension

by Sherida Berning

LEMONT — Two residents of the Pfeiffer Street area appeared at the regular village board meeting Aug. 24 to ask an extension and help from the board on the current project to have the street paved.

The project effectively has been stalemated by three families who have refused to participate because the bank will not grant a loan without assurance of 100 percent participation, said Donald Mueggenborg, 9 Pfeiffer.

The three homeowners who are refusing to cooperate live, Mueggenborg said, on an adjacent street and would receive indirect benefits if Pfeiffer Street is paved. "These people still are fighting indirect benefits," he said.

"Fighting indirect benefits is like fighting the Boy Scouts and motherhood," Mayor John Kujawa responded.

By completing the paving as a private project homeowners in the area will save about 50 percent over what it would cost them if the village has the work done by special assessment.

Village board members informally granted a three-month extension on the project although Trustee Dr. Barry Ladd warned the homeowners that if the $19,000 project is not started this fall they will lose more money because of inflation than if they split up the outstanding $738 and started now.

"You're cutting off your nose to spite your face," he said. The other spokesman said that this may be true, but that it was unfair to have to split someone else's tab.

Trustee Harry Mentch and Clerk Bert Ercoli said they would contact the three homeowners in question to try to convince them to participate.

In other village business, a group of residents in the Kendler Park area were present to ask what was being done about flooding in the area.

Board members informed James Gorczynski, 299 Keepataw Drive, and others that the elementary school board has not yet taken action on a report of the problems causing the flooding.

Trustee Jack Weber told Gorczynski the village would handle their part of the work if the school board handles theirs.

"You're committing the village on this point without even reading the report," Kujawa warned.

Weber, nevertheless, was certain of his statement. "We have no choice," he said.

Harry Witkoski, 1002 State St., also reported flooding and asked the board if the village would like to rent a sanitary sewer.

Blank looks from trustees prompted Witkoski to explain his problem. "Every time it rains, the sanitary sewer backs up in my basement. I have an inch of raw, human sewage in there now."

He asked why the village was allowing 14 apartments to be built across the street and 10 to 12 homes from the Rose Hill subdivision to be added to the same sewer line when it was a problem now. "That's adding insult to injury," he said.

Kujawa said the village could not legally stop the development once building permits have been issued, and Village Engineer Joe Schudt said the proposed State Street widening project should solve the problem when sewers are relocated and storm and sanitary sewers are separated.

"Is that a guarantee?" Witkoski asked.

"The only guaranteed way would be to install overhead plumbing and a sump pump which admittedly is expensive. Hopefully, the separation will relieve the problem, but it's no guarantee."

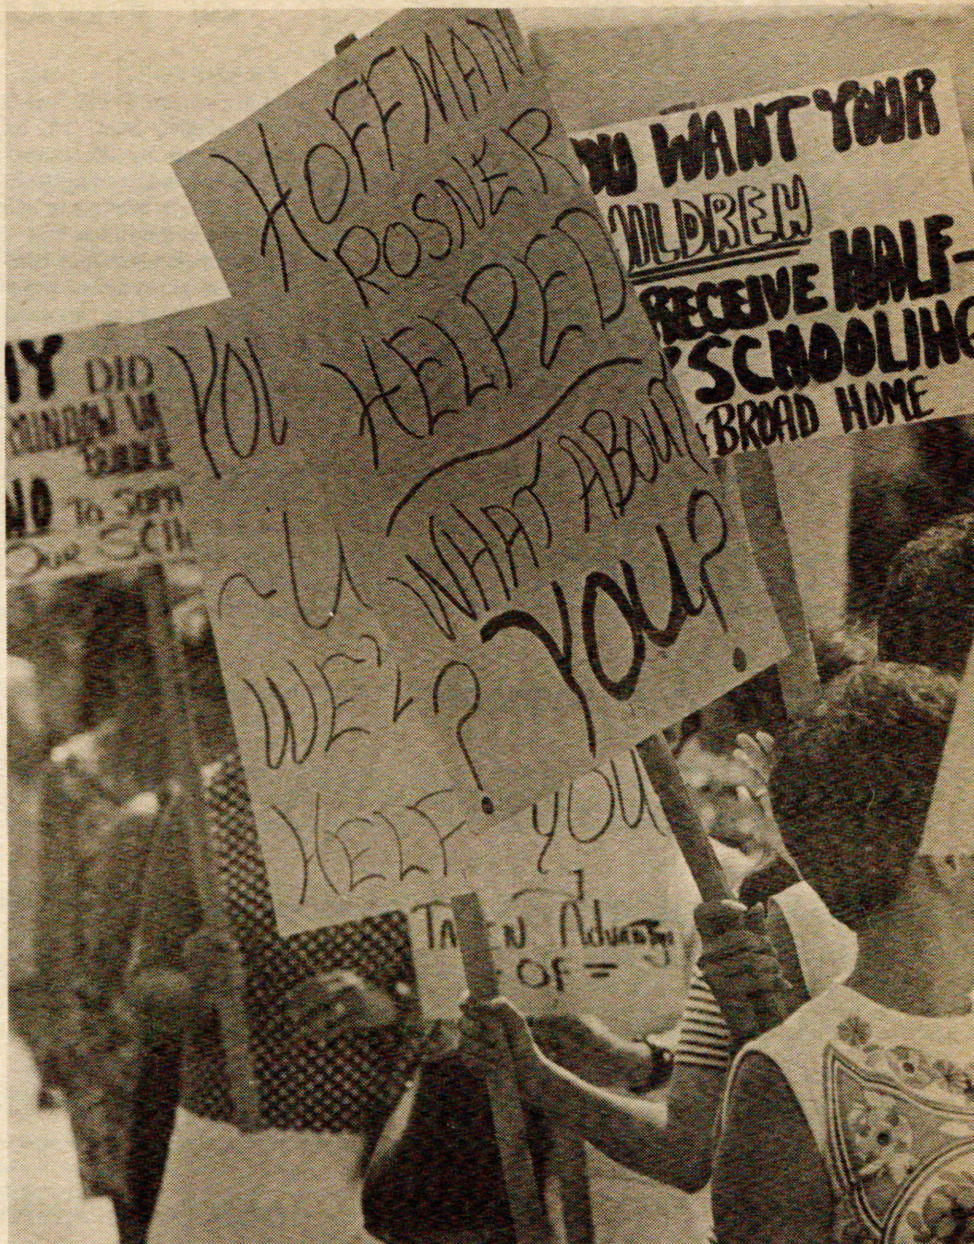

Witkoski said changing his plumbing was not possible because he lives in an older home with a low basement, and the subject was dropped when Kujawa called on another spectator.

"Did I get an answer? No," Witkoski told the Southwest Graphic after the meeting. "I'm going to sue them. I'm going to write Action Line — How many times can you replace a washing machine?"

Bolingbrook boy killed in accident

BOLINGBROOK — Running out into Ill. 53 to retrieve a tennis shoe a companion had thrown into the highway, Bruce Johnson, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frawley Johnson, 153 Fairwood, was struck by a north bound car and fatally injured. He was pronounced dead at Edwards Hospital at Naperville. The accident occurred late Thursday afternoon.

Driver of the car was Timothy Butler, 24, of 5527 E. Lake Drive, Lisle. He was not ticketed.

Some of Arbury Hills residents demonstrated Saturday at the site of the model homes Kaufman and Broad has erected on Beechnut Dr., a scant block east of U.S. 45. Many of the residents of the subdivision object to the fact that Kaufman and Broad plans to build homes on all the vacant lots in Arbury Hills plus 144 more in what is known now as Rainbow Valley and have remained indifferent to pleas of school officials for help to meet the demands the building program will place on the district. At a Mokena village board meeting representatives of Kaufman and Broad said they had no legal obligation to aid the school and had no intention of doing so. (Staff photo by Carl Voss)

Annual Festival will open Saturday

FRANKFORT — This will be a busy weekend in Frankfort. The annual Fall Festival will be launched on Saturday with two events, a horseshow sponsored by the Woman's Club and the sauerkraut dinner to be served by the Frankfort Lions in the Veteran Memorial building.

The horseshow is to be held at the Windy Hill Farm of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Folkers Jr., located a mile east of U.S. 45 on U.S. 30. Starting time is 9 a.m. and since the program calls for 17 events, besides a Dressage Exhibition, the affair should continue into the afternoon.

There is parking space on the grounds and lunch will be available. There is an admission charge of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Serving of the sauerkraut dinner will begin at 4 p.m.

On Sunday morning there is to be a united church service at 10 in the Frankfort School gymnasium.

A chicken barbeque and corn roast will be served from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Sunday and from noon to 7:00 on Monday. There will be a flea market, country store, and art fair, a parade at 1:30 on Sunday and a kiddy parade at 1 p.m. on Monday.

An ice cream social, a beer garden and entertainment are promised for Sunday and Monday. A greased pig contest is slated for 6 p.m. Sunday in the park and there will be rides and games in the afternoon.

An auction of antiques is to take place Monday afternoon beginning at 2. At the same time there will be a puppet show starting at the park.

The Frankfort Chamber of Commerce is the coordinating agent for the festival in which various organizations in the community are participating.

The festival usually attracts visitors from the Will and Cook county areas and those in charge expect this year to be a banner one.

There are many artists who will show pictures as well as collectors who will display antiques.

Board to check moving truck sign

LEMONT — The Lemont village board is "looking into" moving a sign posting speed limits for oil trucks in the village limits.

Discussion was prompted by a letter by Mrs. Florence Rieck, 8 West New Ave., who said oil trucks have been parking near homes along New Avenue. The sign, she said, should be moved from its location near 90 East New Ave. to the area near 50 West New Ave. which is now in village limits.

"It would be a very bad disaster if one of those loaded trucks were involved in an accident, while pulling back into the highway. Many times cars go past at a high rate of speed. And if one of those trucks should catch on fire very likely many homes could be completely destroyed," her letter said.

2 zoning hearings Sept. 16

FRANKFORT — Hearings are scheduled two weeks from tonight, Sept. 16, on two petitions by the Frankfort zoning board of appeals. The hearings are scheduled for 8 p.m. in the village hall.

One petition is that of Harry T. Gansel, owner of property that has been annexed to the village. Gansel is asking for a variation in the setback regulation set up by village ordinance for commercial property, and also for use of signs, but not on a permanent basis, that are of what the village calls "billboard type."

Long before the property was annexed to the village Gansel had two buildings there—one devoted to antiques and garden furniture and ornaments and the other to fire place gear. They are built at the front, looking on U.S. 45, about two feet back of the front property line.

The ordinance now governing commercial requirements require a building to be set back 50 feet, with the front 25 feet landscaped and not used for business. Signs and business displays must be set back at least 25 feet. That's what the ordinance says, at least.

Gansel has rented his property now to a nursery firm. It's greenhouse and a lot of its wares are located at the rear and they claim that passers-by would never know what was back there unless there were signs up front.

There are signs there, just back of the front fence. Trustee Alan Mager, head of the zoning committee, reported to the board that the signs were not only located in violation of the 25-set back rule but they were of a billboard type and had been erected without a building permit.

Frankfort police gave Gansel a ticket and he then tried to get a permit but then could not get one. Gansel was told at a village board meeting that had he come in for a permit in the first place he would not be in court. He would have been advised to seek a variation from the zoning ordinance and some agreement reached on the type of sign to be erected.

He was scheduled to appear in court on the no-permit charge but the village board agreed to have the hearing continued if Gansel would petition the zoning board for a variation.

The other hearing deals with the petition of Herbert P. Folkers Sr., for reclassification of some lots at the west end of Kansas St., they cover two blocks. The lots are zoned for industry and Folkers is asking that they be zoned for residential use.

Fake pollution law cause of furnace repair fraud

SOUTHWEST — Area homeowners are warned against unscrupulous heating and furnace contractors or persons posing as building inspectors who insist heating facilities must be overhauled because of the state's new air pollution law. The warning was issued through the office of Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott.

Using the new state air pollution laws to make people think that their heating facilities need a thorough inspection and possible modification or overhaul is a new avenue of fraud that should be "stopped before it becomes widespread," according to Scott's chief of Consumer Fraud and Protection, Howard R. Kaufman.

In the past it was the custom of these predators to break the grates or damage some part of the furnace, or wreck the burner, and then claim that was the way they found it.

Now, Kaufman says, there has been a new wave of disreputable contractors, inspectors, heating experts and others who insist that homeowners spend a great deal of money for unnecessary work. They claim that if the work is not done the homeowner will be fined for non-compliance with the pollution regulations, Scott's consumer protection chief said.

Attorney General Scott advised homeowners to deal only with reputable heating contractors known in their own community. He said he joins with the majority of reliable heating contractors in warning homeowners that work done by disreputable contractors may be shoddy and substandard.

The attorney general advised homeowners who have been approached by so called "building inspectors" to verify the identity of the inspectors, also to check on the reputation of any heating contractors they plan to deal with.

If anyone has been the victim of unscrupulous practices on the part of heating contractors, they should inform the Attorney General.

Mokena police situation - two opposing views

Editor's Note: The Southwest Graphic received the following letter two weeks ago regarding the present situation in the Mokena Police Department and village. We decided the letter raised some valid questions and asked Mayor Will Tuttle to answer. His letter follows.

From police supporters

To the Editor:

On returning from a short vacation trip we read the newspaper accounts of what had been transpiring in Mokena and then we listened to the words of many townfolk who expressed to us their feelings about what had happened in our town; namely, the resignation of most of the Mokena police force.

We were surprised by this unpleasant turn of events tho we knew of the harassment of our police force which had been tolerated by them so patiently for the past several months.

First we'd like to comment concerning the implied criticism of "A Hand-picked Force." Certainly the police officers had been hand picked, as they rightfully should be. For who, but the Chief of Police had access to the investigative resources of the County and State. However, the Village Trustees were presented with every report on the selected individuals and it was they who made the decision and hired the Officers who recently resigned. These five (5) young men, who are all above reproach as to character and ability are all steadily employed home owners and residents of various sections of our area. Tho, between them, they are the fathers of thirteen young children, they had dedicated themselves to helping protect the community and had helped establish an up-to-date police department to give a 24 hour coverage, of not only the town, but also the many miles that have been acquired thru strip annexation. They were willing to, and have answered, many calls of the aged and ill any hour of the day or night and have spent many hours in various types of training which was required of them, tho it had kept them away from their homes and families. One certainly can feel sure theirs has been a work of Public Service for they received no pay for the 150 hours training time and received only $1.00 (one dollar) per hour for the hours they worked up to Summer of 1969 with their wives covering the police phone and radio without any compensation except that the wives, by their radio contact, knew their husbands were safe. The officers pay was later raised to $2.00 per hr. on active duty and $1.00 per hour when on stand-by duty, subject to call at anytime. On July 1, 1970 the radio operators were to start receiving .35¢ per hr. for manning the police phone and radio the hours their husbands were on patrol. Certainly no one can say they did police work for great personal gain when one can't even get their lawn cut at that rate nor could the wives even get a baby-sitter for 35¢ an hour. So again we say, they are dedicated young people who also tried very hard to understand and assist the young people of the community in many ways.

Wayne Ryder and Dale Reils are our son-in-laws and we are very, very proud of them and each and every one of the other officers, who by their resignation proved they would not condone the actions of some Village Board member, which they, the officers considered a deviation from the Law.

We strongly believe in respect for Authority and Observance of the Law and within the past year two of Ryders relatives were issued tickets for minor infractions. However they both appeared in court and paid the fine imposed. In neither case was an attempt made to have the tickets "fixed" and no one who knew of Chief Ryders high principals would think of questioning the actions of himself or the officers who were trained by him. It is indeed sad that some of the Village personnel choose to do otherwise when their family members or friends were issued traffic violation tickets.

"Policy" was a word often used in Tuttle's and Dina's statement to the newspapers. That word has varied meanings. Our dictionary gives (one) a definite course of action, adopted and pursued.

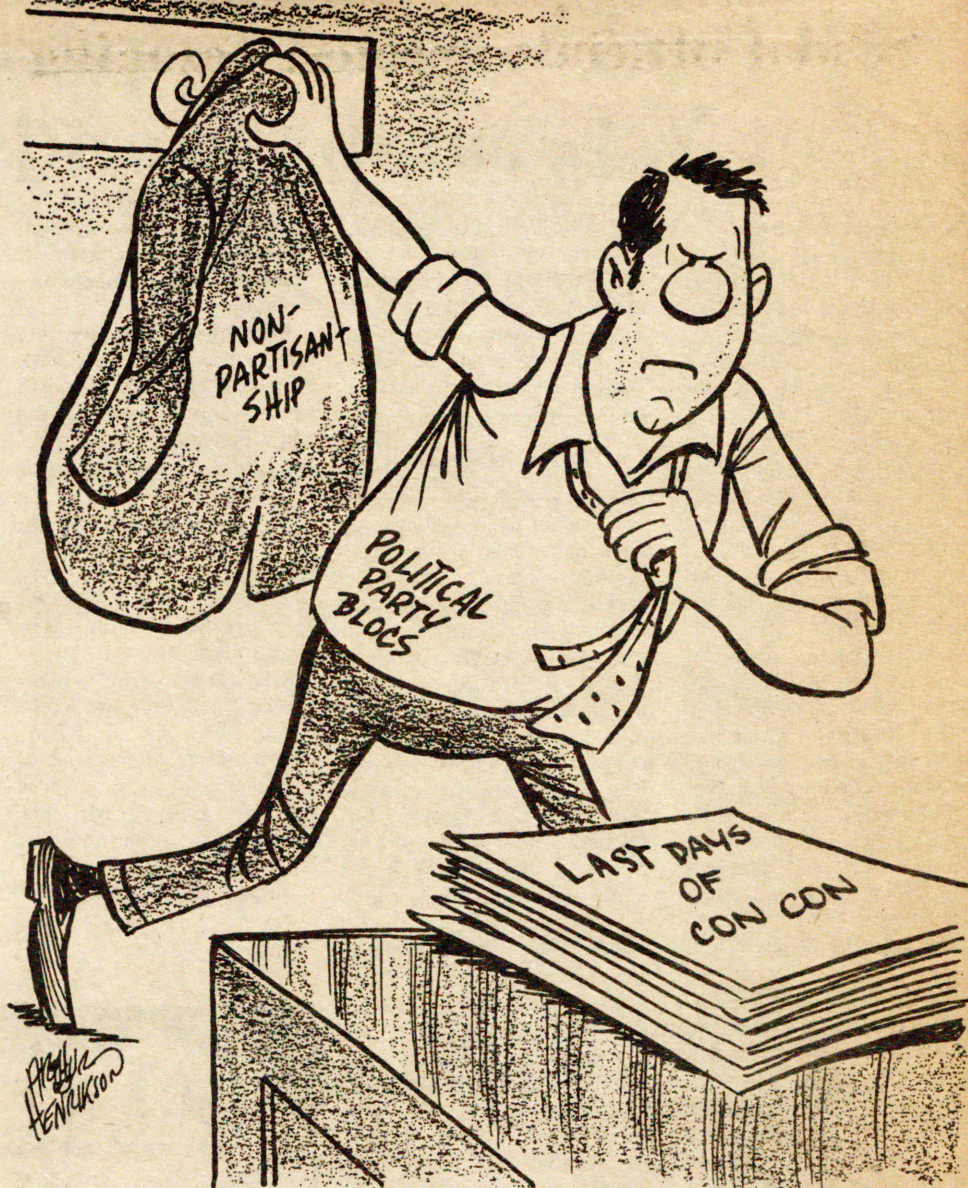

(Two) action conforming to prudence or expediency.

(Three) prudence; practical wisdom.

Our previous Chief of Police, who resigned for health reasons, did his best to serve the police needs of this growing community and we believe he followed the No. 2 definition which called for action conforming to expediency and he used practical wisdom for there was no actual police policy which indicated a definite course of action so it could be followed by any Officer then or later.

Chief Wayne Ryder was publicly criticized in the newspaper, by an individual citizen, because on one morning when the temperature was below zero he dropped his five children off at their school which is just

OFF WITH THE COAT

From the mayor

To the Editor:

Although I do not believe in publicly answering innuendoes made by a single family against myself and the Mokena Village Board, I have been asked to do so by this newspaper and because true, direct and reasonably sensible answers were requested, I have written the following true, direct and sensible letter.

There seems to be much emphasis placed on the sacrifice that the former policemen made to work for the Village of Mokena. During my term of office, not one of these men was asked to accept this job by anyone on the Village Board. Each man, in turn, applied for the job, with the full knowledge of pay offered and hours required to properly perform this job.

It might be interesting to know, for some people, that the Mokena Village Trustees put in a great many hours, at no pay, just like many of the other civic minded groups that work for the betterment of Mokena. Some of the Trustees are paid as little as $240.00 per year, while the maximum possible to earn is the Village President's $480.00 per year. Since I average 3 to 4 hours daily, on village affairs, this averages to about 35 cents per hour or if you measure by $2.00 per hour, then that means that I donate over 750 hours per year at no pay.

The fact which seems to escape these people is that before Ryder and his coterie came upon the scene, Mokena already had a competent police force, headed by one of the best police chiefs that Mokena ever had, Mr. Roy Newton. Mokena, at present, has a capable group of policemen and I fail to see any lack of protection by these men. Mokena will always have a good police force, as long as dedicated men serve only the people of Mokena and not their own selfish interests, as evidenced by the resignation of these men after Mr. Ryder was asked to resign, in a gentleman like manner, to avoid being fired by the Village Board, forthwith. Thus it can now be seen that he was asked to resign for the following reasons.

1. The former chief personally organized the police department personnel to oppose my appointment of Trustee Anthony Dina as chairman of the police committee, said opposition having appeared at a meeting of the police committee and village attorney in February, 1970; all being contrary to maintaining a co-operative attitude between the Village Board and the police department.

2. Two members of the police department, namely Leonard Robins and Harold Fitch, were approached after the above meeting and chastised for failing to support the Ryder position one hundred per cent. This was all done by the deposed chief.

3. Ryder admitted that he violated the law of the state of Illinois by recording telephone conversations of Officer Harold Fitch, without his permission. It does not speak well of the police department, when one sworn to uphold the law, breaks it at his own convenience.

4. Ryder had repeatedly refused to follow directives from myself and the Police Committee. In answer to our directives of December 1969, he engineered written objections, from each member of the police force, against various parts of the directives. Police policy is set by the Village Board and not the police chief.

5. Despite explicit orders that he was to read and comprehend ordinance No. 573, no effort was made to see that this was done. It was after spending a Saturday evening with friends, that I came through town at 1:45 AM and was surprised to see that the taverns were open past the legal closing time. This was the first time that I had occasion to notice this, because the Village Board had hired Ryder, full time. I, as liquor commissioner, assumed that this was sufficient action to ensure enforcement of this section of this ordinance. Since I frequent the taverns, only on occasion, I did not feel that I had to leave my home, at early

School officials protest rezoning

ROMEDEVILLE -- A large group of residents attended a recent Zoning Board of Appeals hearing at Valley View School, when the board heard a proposal for a mobile home park in the area.

A petition to rezone 42 acres on the south side of Davies Road was made by Thomas C. Cousins and Grace C. Robinson. The proposed park would hold 291 mobile units, with five acres used for recreational purposes. Plans include a possible swimming pool, tennis courts, and recreational building.

A mobile home representative said a mobile home park of this size would have only 47 grade school students and seven high school students.

He said the Valley View Grade School District would gain $26,400 in taxes and the high school district $18,300.

Several officials, including Bruce Webster, Valley View Board member; Eugene Korst, the board attorney; Robert Reeves, chairman of the Bolingbrook Planning Commission; and William Waldon, a member of the District 205 High School board disputed the mobile home representative's figures.

Korst explained that the district had recently passed a referendum which will provide one new school and additions to several others in the district. He said architect's estimates indicate the buildings will be ready by February of 1972, and by that time they will be at full capacity.

Webster said the district has a $140,000 deficit in the transportation fund at the present time. He stated every child in the proposed mobile park would have to ride a bus to school.

Officials also stated the district is currently operating on the 45-15 plan, which provides a continuous school year, to avoid further overcrowding. Korst said the district definitely did not need an "instant community."

The Board of Appeals announced it would take the matter under consideration. After the board has made its recommendation, the case will go to the County Board of Supervisors, who will make the final decision.

If the board recommends the rezoning, objectors can file an official protest with the County Board. The protest would require that a two-thirds majority of the board of supervisors vote in favor of rezoning the area, if the recommendation is to be granted.

Announce retirements; appointments

SOUTHWEST — Announcement was made by The Christian Science Board of Directors that Inman H. Douglass, C.S.B., will retire from that Board on October 1 and will be succeeded by DeWitt John, C.S.B., of Boston.

Mr. John has been Editor of The Christian Science Monitor since May, 1964. He will be succeeded in that post by John Hughes, the Monitor's Pulitzer Prize-winning Far Eastern correspondent who was named managing Editor in June of this year.

For twenty years, Mr. Douglas has served The Mother Church in various important capacities: as Committee on Publication for Texas, as Manager of the Washington, D.C., Office of Committee on Publication, as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, and as a Director of The Mother Church. He is retiring to devote his full time to the teaching and practice of Christian Science in Dallas.

Mr. John joined The Mother Church organization in August, 1939, as a political reporter. While on leave during World War II he served on the public relations staff at the Navy's Pacific Fleet headquarters and won the Bronze Star. From 1949 to 1964 he served in the office of the Manager of Committees on Publication of The Mother Church in various capacities including writer, radio and television producer, division head, assistant manager, and manager.

Mr. Hughes, in addition to the Pulitzer Prize he won in 1967, was also recipient, in 1961, of a Nieman Fellowship at Harvard University. He was the Monitor's Africa correspondent for six years and later on spent six years as the Monitor's Far Eastern correspondent based in Hong Kong.

He is a native of Wales, and spent eight years with newspapers and news agencies in London and South Africa before joining the Monitor staff in 1954.

Brightwood annexation hearing set Sept. 10

MOKENA — Hearing on a petition for the annexation of Brightwood to the Village of Mokena is to be held in the Will County circuit court at 10 a.m., Sept. 10.

On that date the court is prepared to hear any objections to marking the subdivision on the southwest edge of the village a part of Mokena.

There are no referendums necessary under this procedure. When an annexation petition is signed by a simple majority of both lot owners and electors and is approved by the court, the latter then issues an order directing the municipality involved to annex the territory described in the petition.

There are 119 lots in Brightwood. There was one owner who would not sign, and there are two owners who have not answered. A husband and a wife each counts as one in signing such a petition.

There were 107 lot owners who voted for annexation and 65 on the "no" side. On the elector-side — persons residing in the area who are not lot owners — 83 voted for annexation and 59 against it.

With a majority for the proposition, the court now will hear any objections, if any are filed. Judge Stewart C. Hutchison will preside.

Discuss annexation at Arbury group meeting

MOKENA — Arbury Hills Civic Association, which has been getting information pro and con on annexation from the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission will have a general public meeting later this month at which members of the Mokena village board are to appear. This announcement was made at the last meeting of the village board. The tentative date is Sept. 29, it was learned, but it will depend upon when the school will be available.

There have been some discussions on annexation but they have been home meetings.

Also at the board meeting Mayor Will Tuttle said letters would be mailed to property owners to check their elm trees for Dutch Elm disease. Those who find evidence of the blight are requested to have the trees removed.

Village maintenance crews were loaned to the Mokena schools to assist in painting lines for various games on the grounds at Carpenter Street School. They are not doing any painting in the school.

LEMONT -- Miss Linda Schulmeister and Milton Kobus Jr. exchanged vows at a 3 p.m. wedding June 20 at St. Joan of Arc Catholic Church in Lisle.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white silk organza with embroidered alencon lace appliques on the skirt, bodice and cathedral length train. The same lace encircled the Victorian neckline and long puffed sleeves. Her three-tier elbow length veil was held by a band of white pearl petals with crystal beads.

They all wore floor length sleeveless gowns of violet voile trimmed with white lace at the neckline, bodice, sleeve and hemline. They carried a bouquet of violet tipped carnations with pink garnet roses attached to a white lace fan.

one long block from his place of business where the squad was kept much of the day. At night, when it was not being used for patrol it was at his home, again ready and handy for any call, emergency or otherwise. Because of this public criticism Chief Ryder then asked the village board for an adopted police policy and was advised that for insurance purposes no one was to ride in the squad car except police personnel or prisoners.

A few times he has felt it necessary to overlook this directive and has stood reprimanded and was advised that the Inhalator Unit or an ambulance was to take an injured or ill subject to a hospital.

Chief Ryder was glad many times to call the Emergency Unit and always spoke highly of the personnel who manned it but there were some children's accidents where time was of great importance. It is a well-known fact that Ryder is qualified to administer first-aid and on the occasions for which he was reprimanded it was always a child who needed help very quickly. One child suffered a severe cut and had already lost considerable blood, a tourniquet was applied and the child rushed to the hospital where the Emergency personnel told the grateful parents it was quick action that saved their child's life. In the little Jackie Ferro case Ryder rushed the parents to the hospital. She'd suffered a ruptured spleen. This too was a life and death matter and she was placed in intensive care. Most people do not know that a parent or guardian are the only ones who can give permission for emergency surgery when needed. One baby swallowed an insecticide pellet and was rushed to St. James. Another call was for an infant and even the Chiefs first-aid and quick action in getting it to a hospital was not sufficient to save the remaining spark of life. But at least he tried and we believe in these different cases Chief Ryder used definition No. 3 -- practical wisdom, in other words -- common sense.

These incidents resulted in Chief Ryder being accused of not following police policy. Yet these same village officials knew of a 15 month infraction of the village tavern laws and even authorized the issuance of a new license to one tavern operator on July 1, 1969 only 2½ months after the tavern closing hour was changed. The instruction sheet that accompanied the license clearly indicated a 3 A.M. Sunday closing hour. This tavern is now operating on a license issued on July 1, 1970 yet the license holder or the Police Chief were not advised of a change. Indeed, there was a serious lack of communication between the Village President, the Police Commissioner and the active Police Officers. Why???

According to a Graphic Newspaper article this ordinance change from 3 A.M. to 1 A.M. had long ago been requested by Chief Ryder and had he been advised of the earlier closing hour it would have been enforced and the Officers on Saturday night duty most certainly would have been happy to return to their homes soon after 1 A.M. rather than stay out or again go out to check the taverns after 3 A.M. Its very hard to understand why the Liquor Commissioner Mr. Tuttle, never in 15 mo. of holding this appointment felt a responsibility to personally check if the new ordinance was being observed. Strange that he suddenly choose to act on this 15 month old ordinance. Strange also that some present board members who also held office at the time of the ordinance change and we would assume, knew of the ordinance change did not move to have it enforced before this.

Foundation garments have undergone radical changes from the first ones worn in Egypt some 4,000 years ago. Styles have ranged from corsets of steel similar to knight's armor to delicate garments of lightweight spandex and lace.

It is common knowledge in Mokena that certain board members were very unhappy when the citizens insisted on a referendum concerning the boards proposed purchase of railroad property and its conversion into a landscaped mall. No one will deny that any change of the parking area will be an improvement but the tax-payers certainly had a right to object to the fantastic amount of money that was to be expended. The proposed purchase was voted down and now we wonder if the happenings of the months that passed since then is a retaliatory action against the Mokena citizens for the loss of the experienced police officers is certainly a loss to the safety of the citizens. May we ask what is the "Policy" of the Village Trustees? Are the ordinances only to be followed or enforced when they so choose?

Tho very upset when we heard of these happenings in Mokena we said nothing but waited for the next scheduled Open Board meeting to be held on July 28th.

We did not know the reasons for the other Officers resignations and expected to hear the letters of resignation read at the regular open meeting on July 28th for we understood the individuals had their own reasons for resigning and each had written their own letter of resignation and all were addressed to the Village Board. The Graphic Newspaper and the Joliet Herald-News had a reporter present and in their newspapers it was reported that the letters of resignation were not read. President Tuttle did not order the clerk to read them so the citizens who were present could not learn of the letters contents. Instead, President Tuttle tabled various matters for later attention. Then he stated he had six letters of resignation. Mr. Dina said there were two others in the file. A motion was quickly entertained for their acceptance. This certainly doesn't seem to be according to proper procedure. How could any Trustee honestly or conscientiously vote on such a poorly presented issue of such importance.

We feel the people of Mokena are entitled to know why these Officers of the Law felt it necessary to resign. In one instance, an Officers wife who served as a radio operator for almost a year without any compensation returned from a one week out-of-state vacation to find that her police phone had already been disconnected. Is this the Freedom of Choice we in America so proudly speak of or is it a copy of the tactics of the Communist countries?

We proudly fly the Flag of the United States at our home every day but now we are beginning to wonder if it really means or represents the highest ideals of individual liberty, justice and equal opportunity for all in this little town of Mokena.

As taxpayers of Mokena we also question the need of spending money to advertise for a Police Chief in National Police Circulars as President Tuttle said would be done. Why not just pin the badge on the Village Board members who have been trying to run the Police department? Or is it, that they are not willing to spent 150 hrs. training time with no pay as the other Officers did? Or if, instead of helping protect the citizens of Mokena they prefer spending their time at the Village Hall reading the one copy of the over 300 page antiquated but slightly revised ordinance book and going thru the police files and in so doing try to dig up more weapons for their personal use when their wishes are not concurred with? We'd like some true, direct and reasonably sensible answers.

Lady's Day

by Marge Ratcliffe
and Sherida Berning

Have you ever picketed a food company? We have.

We also found that if one plans to become a Liberated Woman and say goodbye to make-up, foundation garments, and the men nearest and dearest her, she also must be prepared to bid a fond farewell to her feet. Liberated Women tend to walk a lot.

We stood in the Civic Center Plaza last Wednesday, the 50th Anniversary of the passage of the 19th amendment, which gave women the right to vote. It was hot. In order to remain in an upright position, a person must balance her body on her feet.

An unsuspecting man stepped on one of our four assorted feet. He said, "Excuse me," very pleasantly. "NO!" we growled, "you've stepped on us long enough. Why should we excuse you?"

He appeared to be quite startled. "Do you mean you really believe this stuff?" It was obvious that he certainly didn't. "Well, if you really do, what are you doing for the Movement? Are you going to perform an overt act?"

While we were trying to think up a smart answer or an overt act, he walked away. That's the way chauvinists are.

Two more men approached us. "Hey, we got a great job for you girls . . . you want to be steelworkers?" This brilliant remark was accompanied by a hearty guffaw, knee-slapping, and an invitation for a "shot and a beer after work." And more knee-slapping.

Meanwhile, on the podium, women spoke about equal pay for equal work, (cheers of "Right On, Sister!"), 24-hour day care centers, equal rights for women in education, religion, and politics, ("Sisterhood is Powerful!") and a halt to the war in Vietnam.

The speakers also took a stand against using women's bodies to sell cars, soap and beer. One woman in the audience, nattily attired in a man's pants, shirt, and work boots, topped by a velvet cap, was particularly upset with this aspect. "No more sex symbols," she shouted. "Develop self, not sex!"

Eventually, the platform speaker informed us of a fellow sister who had been fired from her job at a local company, the result of bringing her child to work with her. She spelled out the name of the company and gave its address. Unfortunately, she carefully spelled Mattel . . . the wrong company . . . but this was corrected to Morrell and a good thing, too.

Imagine the confusion which would have resulted when the officials of the toy company looked out their window and discovered more than 100 women marching around saying they would never again buy their hams, bologna and hot dogs.

We debated about picketing the meat company

'Viva la difference!'

A small sampling of area women revealed that most appear to be happy with their "oppressed" condition. Some of their comments appear below.

Mrs. Margaret Semmler, Mokena: "Women are free to do many things to right some of the wrongs in the world. I agree that women who do a job as well or better than a man should be on the same pay scale as the man, but I don't believe a constitutional amendment is necessary. I think that using common sense would solve a lot of problems for everyone."

Mrs. Loretta Dusik, Oak Forest: "I enjoy being a female woman and not a male woman."

Mrs. Richard Szymanski, Bolingbrook: "I think it stinks. The leaders are frustrated old bats. Women don't have any grudge to bear."

Miss Barbara Schantzen, Naperville: "I think they started out all right, but are now going off the deep end."

Mrs. Florence Jarratt, Lockport: "Ridiculous! Vive la difference!"

Mrs. Kenneth Oldenfort, New Lenox: "I haven't paid enough attention to it to make any comment one way or the other."

Mrs. Majorie Connelly, Lisle: "Quite honestly I haven't given it that much thought. What do we have to gain? You have to look at it from different ways, from the point of view of the housewife and woman who works because she needs money, and the woman who works for supplemental money. I feel my wages have been good for what I've done, although I haven't worked very long. I don't think I'm capable of accepting all responsibilities men accept. They're usually worth a little more."

Mrs. Barb Salbego, Lemont: "I have no feelings as a housewife, but women who want to further their careers should have equal rights as men."

Mrs. Virginia Godwin, Tinley Park: "If women were made equal to men, then who would clean up after the children when they were 'sick' and change the baby's diapers?"

Mrs. Pat Bornhofen, Lockport: "I forgot to think about it at all. Besides, I don't want to get too liberated, or Bill might send me to work. Seriously, it was not uppermost in my mind."

. . . not because we had given up the Movement, but mainly because it seemed our feet had about given up. The company in question was several blocks away . . . our feet were right there at the end of our legs.

We had been standing there for about two hours. But somehow it becomes easier to throw off all the traces women have learned to endure when one is jeered and ogled by men, offered "liberated" jobs and cigars by men, and the recipient of a sterling plan one gentleman had devised for liberated restrooms.

His idea involved removing the customary "Ladies" and "Men" signs, enlarging the room and painting "Welcome!" on the door. He was a very funny man.

Finally, conscience won out over comfort and amid cries of "Let's get it all together," we were off. Our efforts were spurred on by more platform speakers, one who sang folk songs and two others who advocated amendments to the Movement which are best not reported in a family newspaper. However, we think it's safe to say that both amendments would effectively prohibit further evolution of the species.

Photographs by Steve Potter

We arrived, the more motley element of an already motley crew, and were herded into a two-column, block-long picket line.

Halfway down the line, someone started a "Rehire Carol" chant, and we got on the bandwagon. Carol's cause soon was abandoned for "Social responsibility for society's children!"

Meanwhile, the Chicago Police Department apparently hadn't been informed they weren't supposed to treat us kindly and behaved as gentlemen, while they collected entries for their candid camera scrapbook. We smiled at them grimly and ducked out after two laps.

We parted ways . . . Marge to the nearest sneaker store and Sheri to the Chicago and Northwestern station. Sheri found her efforts had been in vain when the conductor marked her husband's monthly pass with a large "W" obviously designed to keep any man from using the ticket thereafter.

And obviously, the day's rhetoric had been lost on Marge, who consoled herself with new sneakers and was then wine and dined by her favorite chauvinist tyrant.

3 area grididders to play for Iowa

SOUTHWEST -- Illinois Illini Eight Conference has produced a number of prep football standouts in recent years, and Iowa has three of them on its 1970 football squad.

Joliet's Lorin Lynch and Bob Burrus, and Lemont's Paul Jurca are figured to play an important part in Iowa's bid to improve on its 5-5 record of 1969.

A 6-1, 236-pound junior, Lynch is listed on Iowa's pre-season depth chart as the No. 1 strong guard. Burrus and Jurca, a pair of sophomore 6-2, 210-pound linebackers, are reserves on the Hawkeye chart.

A reserve guard last fall, Lynch, who is majoring in business, was impressive in spring drills and won the spot held down the past two seasons by all-Big Ten guard Jon Meskimen.

"Lorin was a pleasant surprise in spring practice," said offensive line coach Bud Tynes. "He showed plenty of improvement to earn top-rating and is being counted on heavily this season." Lynch earned letters in football and basketball and was an all-state gridder in his senior season at Joliet West high school.

Burrus, who played one year with Lynch at Joliet West, and Jurca were stand-out defenders on the Hawkeyes' 1-1 1969 freshman football team.

"The only thing Burrus and Jurca needs is experience," said defensive coordinator Dick Tamburo. "Both players showed promise in spring practice and should help us this fall."

Burrus, who is a business major, won all-state honors in his final football campaign at Joliet West.

Jurca, a liberal arts major, earned letters in football, basketball and track in high school. He was a football all-stater in 1968.

Fall drills open Aug. 28 for Lynch, Burrus and Jurca. Iowa's first game is at Oregon State Sept. 19. The Hawkeyes face Southern California here Sept. 26.

Duck season opens Oct. 17

SOUTHWEST -- The Illinois duck hunter will have 55 days this year to enjoy freezing slowly in a blind, according to a spokesman for the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Tom Evans, supervisor of the division of game, said the season will begin at sunrise Saturday, Oct. 17, and end at sunset Thursday, Dec. 10. Hunting hours will be from sunrise until sunset every day.

"We will have 25 more days to hunt than we did last year," Evans said. "Excellent building conditions in the prairie provinces of Canada have supplied us with a good population of ducks. The bag limit is larger, too. However, the method used to determine the limit is vastly different from anything ever tried in Illinois."

"We will operate under a system of 100 points," Evans said. "This has been tried in restricted areas in Colorado and California, but has never been attempted on a statewide basis. The hunter who knows how to identify ducks in flight will have an advantage over the man who is not able to do so."

Evans explained the point system as follows: A point value has been assigned to different species and sexes of duck, depending on their abundance. A hunter reaches his daily limit when the point value of the last duck shot, added to the sum of point values of other birds already taken during that day, equals or exceeds 100 points. The possession limit is the maximum number of birds of species and sex which could legally be bagged in two days of hunting.

Values assigned for species and sexes are:

90 points—hen mallards black ducks, wood ducks, redheads, canvasbacks, hooded mergansers.

20 points—drake mallards, hen pintails, ring-neck ducks.

All other species and sexes of ducks count 10 points each.

Evans said that coots are not included in the point system. Hunters will be limited to 15 coots a day and 30 in possession.

Geese season dates and hours are the same as duck season dates and hours except in Union, Alexander, Jackson and Williamson counties. In those four southern counties the season will begin at sunrise Thursday, Nov. 12, and end at 3 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 23. However, if a quota of 28,000 geese is reached before Dec. 23, the season will be closed by order of the director of the Department of Conservation. The total state quota is 35,000 geese.

Goose hunting hours in the southern counties are from sunrise until 3 p.m. every day.

Hunters may take five geese a day, but of this total not more than two Canada geese or two white-fronted geese or one Canada and one white-front in the aggregate may be killed.

The possession limit of five geese may not include more than four Canadas or white-fronts in the aggregate, of which not more than two may be white-fronted geese.

Geese killed in Illinois must be transported as the personal baggage of the hunter, Evans said. They cannot be shipped, transported or carried by common carrier, postal service or by any other person other than the hunter who bagged them.

Lock report

LOCKPORT -- The eight locks on the Illinois Waterway reported one of the highest total volumes of traffic for July in the past five years, according to a report issued this week.

Lockport had a total of 1,886,215 tons, and locked through 2,135 barges in the month of July.

Joliet YMCA to have open house Sept. 12

SOUTHWEST -- The Joliet YMCA's annual Open House for boys and girls, third through sixth grades, who live outside the Joliet city limits will be Saturday, September 12. There will be no charge.

The purpose of the open house is to give boys and girls a chance to visit the Joliet YMCA, participate in gym games, enjoy a splash in the swimming pool, and learn what the YMCA activities are all about. A parents' lounge will be provided for the convenience of parents who attend with their children. All activities will be under the supervision of trained adults aided by YMCA junior leaders.

Boys and girls are scheduled to visit according to the schools they attend. Following is the Sept. 12 schedule for the southwest area.

Frankfort, Mokena Public, Mokena St. Mary's, Hampton Park Schools, Bolingbrook, 10 a.m. - 12 p.m.

Lockport, St. Joseph & St. Dennis, Taft, Ludwig, Central, and Kelvin Grove, 11 a.m. - 1 p.m.

New Lenox St. Jude's, Cherry Hill, Haven, Schmuhl, Haines, 1 - 3 p.m.

YMCA members are asked to invite their friends from school to attend. Each child must bring his or her own gym clothing and shoes, bathing suit and towel. Swim caps are required for girls.

Lions testing successful

LOCKPORT -- Friday, Aug. 14, the Lockport Lions Club Glaucoma Screening Unit tested 400 residents from the Lockport area for glaucoma and cataracts. The tests revealed 11 suspected cases of glaucoma and eight persons with suspected cataracts.

According to Bill Rutter, chairman, the community response to this service was appreciated and the Lions were pleased to have the opportunity to present it.

Rutter also said the Lions and the Illinois Association for the Prevention of Blindness wish to thank all the volunteers who participated in the effort.

If you are planning a long trip be sure to get the proper rest before starting out, suggests Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies. Too little rest could cause you to become drowsy behind the wheel. Eternal rest could be the result.

Driving champions to compete

SOUTHWEST -- Edward Mundt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Mundt of Manhattan, will represent Illinois at the National 4-H Auto Driving contest in Maryland Sept. 5 and 6.

He earned the right to go to the national contest by winning the State 4-H Auto Event in Springfield on July 9. Mundt is a 10-year 4-H Club member of the Willing Wilton Workers 4-H club.

The National 4-H Auto Driving Event will be held at the Maryland state fairgrounds, Timonium, Md.

Theresa Catlin, a 4-H'er from Decatur, Illinois, is the state 4-H Girl's driving champion. She will also travel to the national contest.

hours of the morning, to do a job for which he was getting paid.

6. "Harassment" was charged by the police force, when the Village Board requested less late night radar surveillances, on Wolf Road and more routine patrols of the entire village. However, it was suggested at a meeting with some of the former policemen, that the additional fines taken in by these methods be used to purchase a radio system that they were then proposing. These fines are to be considered punishment to discourage speeding and wrong-doing and should never be considered as a major source of revenue.

7. I had expressed to Ryder that protection of the residents of Mokena was paramount to all other activity and he was to respond to outside calls only in an emergency or when aid by other authorities was requested. Despite this, he continued to respond to routine calls, originating outside the village limits, often for events clearly not in village jurisdiction and then reported that he had a large increase in duties. The fact is that all phone calls now logged number approximately half of the total, reported by him, for the same period of time.

8. Ryder often took actions which were in direct conflict with established procedures, such as signing purchase requisitions, hiring temporary help on his own and soliciting bids and specifications from vendors without notification of the police committee.

9. Although state statutes specifically give the mayor the authority to "arrest or cause to be arrested" all persons who break the peace, Ryder questioned this authority and even stated to me, on one case, "if I was on duty, I'd have given you the book and said write your own ticket. We only write tickets that have a good chance for conviction. We have an image to uphold with the state's attorney's office."

10. Mokena Village Board memorandum 7-69, paragraph 6 (in effect at the beginning of my term) required a monthly report, of the Mokena Police Association, to the Village Board. He refused to obey this memorandum and had stated that the association was a private one and the village had no right to govern it; this despite its carrying the name of the "MOKENA POLICE Association."

These are some of the items leading to the dismissal of Ryder as Mokena police chief. I originally preferred not to bring all of these charges into the public spotlight, after he had resigned. However, I have been asked for answers and I have given them here. The fact that police records were kept in and police meetings held in his own home, said meetings, at times, being taped, without everyone's knowledge, contributed to the difficulty that the complete Village Board had in controlling the police department.

The lack of voluntary co-operation by Ryder became apparent when he would not aid the village when the crossing guard at 195th St. and Wolf Road became seriously ill and could not complete the school year. Maintenance employees were pressed into service, for the safety of the school children, for the balance of the year, when he convinced the committee that he had more important things to do.

For anyone to intimate that the Mokena Mall project could relate with the dismissal of an insubordinate chief is illogical thinking, has no bearing on the matter and suggests that the writer does not have a full grasp of the matter.

The taxpayers of Mokena should welcome the fact that advertising is to be done to get an impersonal, competent, unselfish chief and not make the same mistake made in Ryder's case (who had questionable experience for the job, at best). This is borne up by the fact that despite his professed statements of not wanting anything for themselves, the former police members first thought was to liquidate the assets of the Mokena Police Association and divide the proceeds among the members and former members.

This would, in effect, remove many devices from the use of active policemen and endanger their safety and the safety of the citizens of Mokena. This despite the fact that most of the money for the purchase of these items was donated by Mokena residents, solely for such purchases.

In closing, I will say that I do not wish to prolong this situation and hope that this clears up any doubts in anyone's minds about the whole matter. If anyone has any questions, they can talk to any member of the Village Board. They all have a complete history of these events.

Farmers to study market prospects

JOLIET -- Good livestock and grain price forecasting requires good information, says George Young, Will County Assistant Extension adviser and area farmers can get the latest information on 1971 grain and livestock prospects at an outlook meeting Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 100 Manhattan Road, Joliet. The meeting starts at 8 p.m.

University of Illinois Extension Specialist Larry Simerl will be on hand with facts, figures and forecasts for the year ahead. This information will help farmers schedule product sales to get top returns during the next 12 months.

Farmers do not get grades for their livestock and grain price forecasts. But those who do the best forecasting earn the highest farm income.

Topics for discussion at the Will County outlook meeting include: prospects for consumer spending for farm products, cattle and hog production and slaughter forecasts, grain stocks and grain use, and export and price support expectations.

Other related topics such as interest rates, inflation and price and wage controls and their effect on the agricultural economy are also on the agenda.

QUESTION:

What causes all the increases in auto collision insurance? Are we really having that many more accidents?

ANSWER:

We are having more accidents but the big factor is the increase in repair costs. For instance a fender which used to cost from twenty to thirty dollars now costs as much as several hundred dollars installed with trimmings.

Romeoville plans 10th parade, fair

ROMEOVILLE — The Romeoville Parade Association will sponsor its Tenth Annual Parade, Sunday, Sept. 6 at 2 p.m.

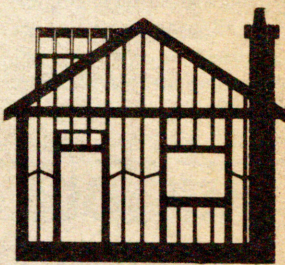

The parade will start at West View Junior High, down Belmont Ave. to Kingston; Kingston to Arlington Drive, where the judge's stand will be set up in St. Andrew's parking lot; down Arlington to Dahlhart to Alexander Circle, where units will disband.

More than 70 entries have been planned, including bands, marching units, a clown, baton twirlers, decorated cars and many colorful floats.

Miss Romeoville, Donna Wold, will grace the parade as its youth entry, while Neal Murphy, past mayor of Romeoville, will represent the older generation as Grand Marshal.

The parade's theme is "Peace, Project 1970." Dr. Edward McCartan, publicity chairman, has high hopes that by establishing dialogue between young and old, the community can face up to its problems and overcome them.

REACT — and the Romeoville Jaycees will direct units and handle crowd control to insure an orderly procession.

KEEPATAW DAYS

SOUVENIR SECTION

Keepataw Weekend Through the Years . . .

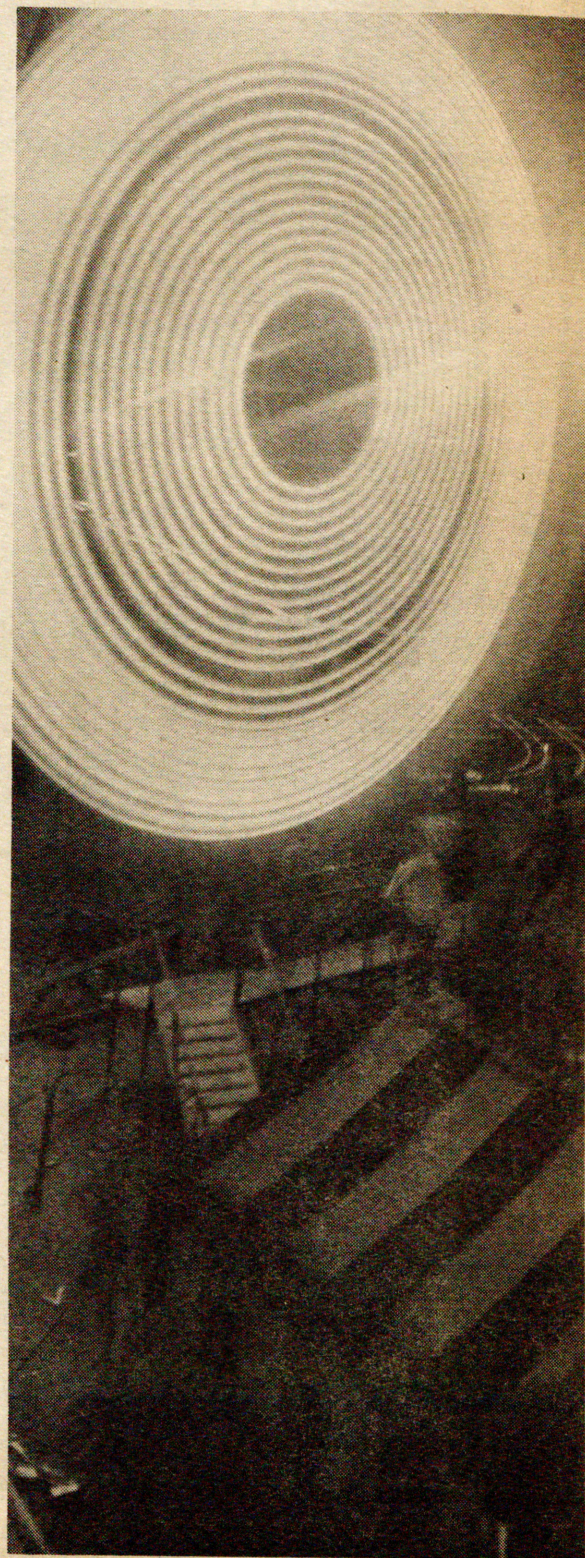

Clowns such as this one walking the hard way are a main attraction to parade spectators.

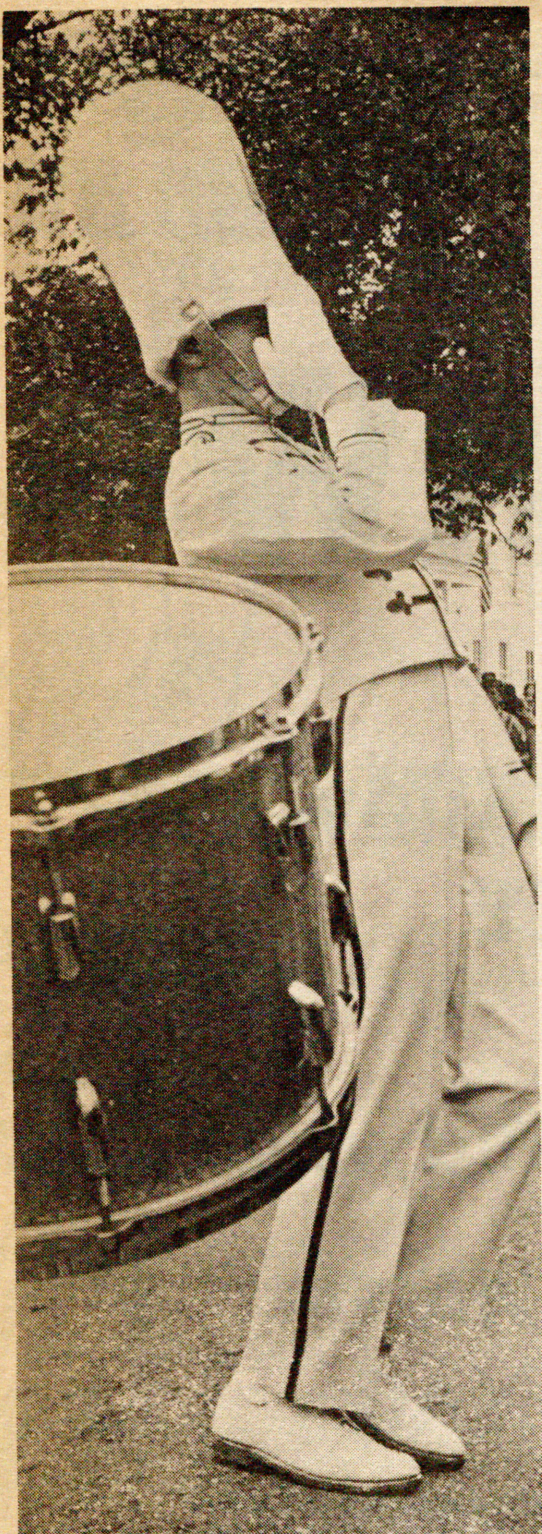

The popularity and fame of Keepataw Days after 21 years is something most Lemont residents take for granted.

But what was it like before then? We can assure you Lemonters were not sitting idly by without celebration of the Labor Day weekend.

Turn to page 6 of this section for a story on how Labor Day was celebrated in Lemont in 1945, four years before the Lemont Jaycees began Keepataw Days.

A huge spotlight signals persons from miles around to participate in Keepataw festivities.

Seemingly pushed along by a huge drum, this drum major snaps a salute to Keepataw Days.

Crowds, composed of persons often of great distance from Lemont, line the streets as the Homer Township fire department takes its place in the parade lineup.

What's next? Children strain their necks in anticipation of the next wonder to round the corner in the annual Keepataw parade.

A new Mustang attracted many chance takers at the 1965 celebration. Other prizes that year were cameras, AM-FM radios and bicycles.

Before Keepataw - what then?

The date is Aug. 31, 1945.
The scene: The Lemont village hall.

Members of the Lemont fire department are setting up booths to fill the entire building for a celebration marking the first peace time national holiday since the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941.

The enthusiasm of this 1945 celebration was to be the basis on which today's Keepataw Days were founded. Taking over from Lemont firemen, Lemont Jaycees later moved the celebration outdoors into the largest of the area.

But back in 1945, Lemonters had something special to look forward to. Gasoline rationing for wartime had been lifted the week before and visitors were expected to attend from all over the Des Plaines valley and other surrounding communities.

Proceeds from the celebration would be used to operate the fire department during the coming year, to pay premiums on life insurance policies held by the firemen and for the department replacement fund.

Prizes were to be awarded each night of the indoor carnival with a $50 war bond to be given free at the close of the carnival Labor Day night. Other prizes had been assembled with care for the various windows of carnival contests.

When the carnival ended Monday night, all agreed that the fish pond had been the greatest success. Although arranged primarily for the children, the booth vied for popularity with the booths arranged for adults.

Then Mayor Walter Bush opened the affair at 8:30 Saturday night. The attendance was somewhat cut, however, as Lemont residents preferred to stay home and listen to radio broadcasts of the official Japanese surrender.

Annual carnivals such as this one continued until 1949 with the first actual Keepataw Days.

Keepataw Days has come a long way.

If you drive past the exit and circle around, cautions Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies. You may not save any time but you may save your life.

Skidding accidents cause 10,000 deaths yearly. Knowing how to control a skid can be a life saver, adds Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies. Never jam on the brakes or step down on the accelerator. The most effective ways of regaining control are steering in the direction of the skid and stabbing the brakes.

21st Keepataw Days to excel all others

LEMONT — The 21st annual Keepataw Days promises to be even finer than in previous years with 10 carnival rides, several game booths and one of the largest parades in the history of the annual festival.

Stepping off at 1 p.m. Monday at the signal of this year's Grand Marshal Archie Ludwig, the parade will have 88 units. Trophies will be awarded for drum and bugle corps, color guards, drill and marching units, baton twirlers, school bands, other bands, professional floats, non-professional floats, decorated cars, horses and riders, horse drawn units, and comical entries.

A highlight of the parade is expected to be the A.R. McAllister Marching Band of Joliet. Beside marching in the parade, the Lemont Chamber of Commerce has arranged for the band to play a one-hour concert immediately after the parade.

Entertainment will be provided nightly on the midway (Main Street from State Street to Stephen Street). The Apollos rock band will play for dancing from 7 to 10 p.m. Saturday; Linda and her Escorts will perform the same times Sunday, and a local group, The Pastimes, will perform Monday night.

Proceeds from the annual celebration will be used by the Lemont Jaycees to support various community projects and organizations throughout the year. Organizations manning booths, rides and games will receive 50 per cent of the profit for their own use.

The Old Stone Church will be open to the public as a museum with displays of Lemont's past. Hours during the Keepataw celebration are Saturday from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Sunday from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. and Monday after the parade until 9 p.m.

Members of the Lemont Historical Society will be on hand to answer questions and recruit new members. Antique cars that will be in the parade will be parked on the street in front of the old church at 306 Lemont Street.

Winners of the parade trophies will be announced approximately one hour after the end of the parade at the raffle booth on the midway. Judges will review the entries at a stand set up on the steps to St. Patrick's School on the west end of Illinois Street.

This may be just the kick in the pants you've been waiting for.

Nobody has trouble writing checks and making deposits. The trouble comes later, at the end of the month, when you have to figure just how it all adds up.

That's when you decide how well you are doing. Whether you're ahead of the game or behind. What happens then determines whether it's you managing your money, or your money is managing you.

It can be a terrible time of the month.

That's why we've introduced Topline, a new and simpler kind of bank account.

Topline combines your three basic banking accounts into one unified account. Your checking, your 4 1/2% savings and your 5% Golden Savings account are all under one number. And they're reported to you monthly (including monthly savings interest payments) on one unified statement.

That means without any extra bookkeeping you can see where you stand, month by month.

The information is stated in such simple terms, that if you don't like what you see, it's usually pretty obvious what you can do to change it.

Topline could be worth extra money to you in the long run. In the short run, it could get you started on some solid, family financial planning.

Topline. Know what you're doing with your money.
